Begins it by Attending a Concert At the Waldorf-Astoria.

LUNCH AT UNIVERSITY CLUB

Guest of Mr. and Mrs. Cornellus Vanderbilt at Dinner-Receives St. Paul Commercial Club Delegation.

New York, March 9 .- Prince Henry of Prussia was the central figure today in another round of entertainments arranged in his honor. He first distened to a concert at the Waldorf-Astoria, largely made up of his favorite songs, the concert being arranged at his request. When that was over he drove to the University club to a luncheon, which was not concluded until the middle of the afternoon. In the evening he was a guest at a dinper of Mr. and Mrs. Cornellus Vanderblit, and met a large party made up of persons of social prominence. When the prince bade farewell to the company at the Vanderbilt home he went to the New York Yacht club for an informal reception, and the hour was late when he returned to the Walderf-Asteria for the night.

He found time between the four main events on his program for the day to receive a delegation represent ing the Commercial crub of St. Paul and several callers, and to finally complete the arrangements for the two days' stay in the country, and his departure for home. He had intended to be present at the religious services on the imperial yacht Honenzoliern in the morning, but the case of scarlet fever which developed a few days ago changed that plan. Instead, he re-mained at the hotel, arising late and breakfasting at his lelsure.

It was the Arion society of Brooklyn, winner of the kaiser's prize at the singing festival in Brooklyn in 1900, which furnished the morning concert at the hotel. The concert took place in the Astor gallery and pegan at 11:30. The prince sat in the center of the hall, surrounded by the members of his suite, the American escort, Ambas-sador von Holleben, Consul-Gen. Ruenz and Consul Geissler, The chorus first sang "Pries Lied," and after that, request, an extended which included "Old Kentucky Home' and "Dixie." The concluding number was "The Lord's Own Day," and it was rendered very effectively. The prince was delighted with the serenide, and after shaking hands with the officers of the society, addressed the members briefly in German. He thanked them for what they had done for him and congratulated them on their excellent musical ability. He said in

I never heard sweeter or softer music from a male choir. I have heard other music in this country, which has given me great pleasure, and it has brought me to the conclusion that music is born in the human heart without regard to race or color. You should cultivate not only as a boon to yourselves but for the benefit of others. The Arion society presented the prince an illuminated address and announced that during the day a cable nessage suitable to the occasion would be drafted and sent to the kaiser. The luncheon at the University club was given by the committee named by President Roosevelt to arrange for the visit of the prince and escort him on his tour, and the hosts were Gen. Corbin, Asst. Secy. of State Hill, Admiral Evans, Col. Bingham, and Commander Cowles, The party left the hotel at 12:45 o'clock with mounted po-lice as a special guard for the carriage of the prince. A great crowd saw the departure from the hotel and the arrival at the club, but there were no special demonstrations. In elaborate luncheon was served and there was an interesting discussion of the trip through the country just concluded. Prince Henry will visit Philadelphia tomorrow. Accompanied by his party he will leave for that city by special train over the Pennsylvania at 8 o'clock. He is to be officially received by the city, shown through Cramp's shipyard and given a luncheon at the Union League club. He will return to New York at 5:30 and in the evening will give a farewell dinner to those who accompanied him on his American

At the concert given by the Armstrong association to Prince Henry Booker T. Washington, the colored leader, was presented to Prince Henry. The two chatted for two minutes, during which time the prince asked many questions as to the negroes. He asked Mr. Washington for a book of negro melodies, and the latter promised to secure him one.

After dining with the Vanderbilts the prince attended an informal re-ception at the New York Yacht club. eption at the New York racin.
When the prince and his suite arMyed Commodore Lewis Cass Ledyard to the "model conducted the visitors to the "model room" of the club, where the prince examined the models of the different cup defenders, the trophies of the club and the America's cup. To the latter Prince Henry devoted some time, admiring it greatly. Later he was shown through the clubhouse and a light linch was served. The prince returned accompanied by Admiral Evans and Count von Schwaind. He immediately tetired to his apartments.

Bids Fair to Surpass Anything in Recent Years.

Chlcago, March 10.-The Inter Ocean's Tacoma correspondent says that the present winter rush to southwestern Alaska and Klondike districts bids fair to be to be outdone by the great movement to the gold camps at Cape Nome during the spring and early summer. Twenty steamships and sailing vessels have been announced for service in Nome trade during the season. These esels have an aggregate freight carry-ing capacity of 40,000 tons. This is due to the fact that the Nome and tributary districts have now become permanent gold pro-ducers and that permanent facilities in the way of railroads, electric lights, teleghones, and other conveniences are being provided. These necessitate the travel northward of many men, besides those engaged primarily in mining and the shipment of great quantities of freight. The steamship companies are receiving letters daily from New York and other eastern cities to reserve berths and freight space.

gerous germs that in food and water enter the body through the stemach.

Consumption is credited with nearly one-sixth of the deaths of adult persons. No account is made in the mortality reports of the fact that the "chronic starvation" due to dyspepsia had so weakened the half-fed tissues and reduced their vital force and power of resistance as to predispose to the rayages of consumption.

Tun-down condition hard to account for; and many vague, ill-defined or obscure symptoms that are really due to defective digestion. There are many remedies on the market for impaired or perverted digestion but none are so economical, so safe, so effective, so popular as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Whether the dyspepsia is of long standing or is merely a case of temporary indigestion, they give prompt and pronounced relief.

power of resistance as to predispose to the ravages of consumption.

Fevers due to toxines or ptomaines developed in the body from putrefactive changes in rotting, half-digested food are credited with many deaths. No thought seems to be given to the fact that dyspepsia was the real cause. Feople do not seem to realize that imperfectly digested food putrines, decomposes, ferments and develops peculiar poisons that are absorbed into the blood causing dangerous fevers, poisoning tissues and overtaxing those organs that have to eliminate it.

tissues and overtaxing those organs that have to eliminate it.

Many other facts can be cited along this line, but enough has been said to convince thoughtful people that the discomfort or actual distress occasioned by dyspepsia is of little consequence compared with the actual dangers to which it exposes one.

Every organ and tissue of the body depends on the stomeous for nourishment and renewal that will prepare it to perform satisfactorily its function and resist disease.

Few people seem to be aware of the dangers of weak, defective and disordered digestion. Health reports do not give it as a cause of death because some other disease sets in to work destructive changes, only made possible by the imperfect digestion, and the death is credited to them.

Typhoid fever is credited with many deaths, yet were digestion always perfect there would be no typhoid fever. Doctors call typhoid "enteric," meaning bowel fever. It is due to a germ that in food or drink is swallowed. It reaches the bowel only by way of the stomach. It cannot live in the secretions of a vigorous stomach. Normal gastric julee would destroy and digest it. If the stomach is weak and inactive disease germs may succeed in passing on into the bowel, in the secretions of which they thrive and we suffer from the diseases that they congender. Thus a good digestion is a great safeguard against disease by destroying dangerous germs that in food and water enter the body through the stomach.

A strong digestion means a strong, well-nourished body, capable of resisting disease. Dyspepsia or indigestion is a common complaint. There is hardly a disease that is not attended with or complicated by impaired digestion. Dr. Abernathy, a noted English physician, once said: "Nine-tenths of all disease one from the stomach." There are many cases of ill health of which imperfect digestion is the unsuspected cause. Often the prominent symptoms of dyspepsia, as gastric julee would destroy and digest it. If the stomach is weak and inactive disease germs may succeed in passing on into the bowel, in the secretions of which they thrive and we suffer from the diseases that they are disease, and the destroying dangerous germs that in food and water enter the body through the stomach.

Cansumption is credited with nearly one-thing after food, etc., are lacking; but there are other symptoms not usually attributed to dyspepsia. There may be headaches, sleeplessness, generally "played-out" feelings, nervousness and depression, oppression about the h

Board of Control to Take Place of Comptroller Currency-No U.S. Notes Less Toun $10 Denomination.

Washington, March 8 .- Chairman owler of the house committee on anking and currency tomorrow will introduce an important financial neasure framed by the Republican members of the committee, after conferences extending through the last two months. It brings together into one financial measure a number of quesions which have been urged heretofore. Mr. Fowler explains the purposes

The purposes of the bill are: To ransfer from the government to the banks the responsibility of protecting the necessary gold reserve and the burden of furnishing gold for exportation, thereby saving our commerc from the destructive apprehensions growing out of raids upon the "gold in the treasury;" to provide a currency always responsivle and equal to the de mands of trade everywhere and to equalize and lower the average rate of interest in all parts of the United States; to secure for American enterprise and American capital ivileges and option in engaging in nternational banking under nations law and so lay a foundation upon which bulld an American merchant marine to remove the last vestige of the doubt with regard to our standard of value.

The measure provides for internation I banking and a division for banking and currency established under a board of control instead of a single individua the person of the comptroller of the arrency as heretofore. The board wil consist of three officers whose terms of office are for twelve years. If the measure now introduced should become a law it is confidently believed that the national banks would assume th urrent redemption in gold coin of $130 00,000 of United States notes. In cor sideration of the obligation assume by the national banks, they will have the right during the succeeding fiv cears to issue gradually as may be uiredanamount of bank notes equal to 9 per cent of their paid up and unim paired capital; provision being made also for an emergency circulation. As the notes are taken out for cir-ulation the banks will deposit with the government a guarantee fund of cent of the amount of the notes so issued. The national banks here-after will be required to pay interes pon the government deposits at the of 1 per cent per annum. This 5 per cent guarantee fund and the tax upon the banking notes will be used to protect the bank notes and the excess of such taxes with the interest on government deposits will be used to pay off the Upited States notes which the banks assume to currently redeem d that the whole $130 00 of United States notes which banks have assumed to currently redeem, wil e paid off in 30 years out of the taxe collected upon circulation and interes paid by the banks upon government de The United States will be divided into clearing house districts to facilitate the current redemption of the bank notes to that the amount of notes outstandmg at any time always will be ordinated with the amount of trading to be done, precisely as checks and drafts reflect the amount of commerial work being carried on. By and with the consent of the board control banks may have more than ne place for doing business, being au-horized to establish themselves in the various cities of the country.

No bank note of a denomination less han $10 will be issued and the secreary of the treasury shall not issue silver certificate of a denomination preater than $7 and thereafter, upo the presentation to him of 100 silver collars or any multiple thereof and a demand for their redumption, shall ex-change gold com for the same.

A wanted. Chief Hayes realizing soon after the arrest that a mistake had been made, failed to make the master public. Big Demand for Shipping Facilities Chicago, March 10 .- So great is the demand for shipping facilities that the potato dealers are paying the railroad companies a honus of $10 a car, says The Tribune. The dealers have had trouble all season in getting cars placed when and where they wanted them, and just now they are particularly desirous of quick action. The price for seed potatoes is advancing rapidly and the dealers want to take advantage of the market before farmers raise the price still further. Less than three weeks ago potato seed stock was selling at 85 cents at loading stations. Now the holders are asking $1.25. The demand is from southern sections. While they raise good table potatoes in the south they are compelled to come north each season for seed stock. Stepped Into Live Coals.
